

From the voices of members who need a proactive partner in healthcare

“OMSMAF looks after my family with early intervention, rather than waiting for someone I love to fall seriously ill.”

– Safwaan Hanervil

While we were overwhelmed by the positive responses to the Thanksgiving competition, it came as no surprise that our preventative benefits were highlighted by members as being a major deciding factor as to what makes OMSMAF the best medical scheme out there.

Most medical schemes offer wellness and screening benefits, yet few are as extensive as those provided by OMSMAF. The single biggest differentiator? We pay your general practitioner, gynaecologist or urologist from the risk or wellness benefit so that you can easily access potentially life-saving wellness screenings and tests, which typically include mammograms, pap smears and prostate-specific antigen (PSA) tests that are not covered by a pharmacy.

“Thank you for sharing information that helps us to live a healthier lifestyle. The benefits have changed our family life for the better.” – Ryan Herman

Here’s a great example of how OMSMAF is simply better at putting the needs of members first. As many of our female members will know, most medical schemes in South Africa impose an age limit on mammograms and offer only one every two years. We say that’s not good enough. In a country where the breast cancer rate is so high and yet the disease is so treatable if caught early, you should have access to a mammogram every year, irrespective of your age, just as you do to your pap smears.

“Thank you OMSMAF for being so generous with this benefit and creating awareness for us ladies. After losing my husband last year it has been so very tough with all of the responsibilities on my shoulders and I am glad and oh so very fortunate to have OMSMAF as my partner to keep me sane!!”

– Vimla Reddy

Once again, we would like to thank all the members who took the time to share their insights with us. And while we have always believed that OMSMAF has the power to change members’ lives for the better, it is wonderful to know that you believe in the power of OMSMAF too. It is heart-warming to know that the fund is making a real difference in the lives of Old Mutual employees and we pledge to keep on providing the best possible healthcare for you and your loved ones, now and well into the future.
